Chief Engineer's Report

PETERBOROUGH, N. H., Feb. 1, 1923

TO THE SELECTMEN OF PETERBOROUGH, N. H.:

Gentlemen: As Chief of the Fire Department I wish to submit the following report of the Department for the year 1922.

I am glad to say that the people are learning to be more careful about setting fires and taking care of them, particularly in the spring and fall when there is so much rubbish around. In the fall when people start their heaters in their homes and business places, see that the soot in the chimneys is cleaned out first; take the rubbish away from the sides of the furnace; don't snap cigar or cigarette butts into rubbish or the waste basket. If you can't afford a proper receptacle for butt ends, get an empty fruit can and put them in. It would be a good idea to take an empty can along in your auto to put your cigar or cigarette stubs into and not snap them into the side of the road; because from my personal observation and belief a greater part of the building and forest fires are the cause of carelessness on the part of some one.

During the year the Department has had new tires put on the Combination fire truck and with the improved condition of the roads it ought to be good for another seven years. We also purchased 1000 feet of 2½ in. of linen hose. These two items alone made quite a hole in our appropriation and during the coming year the Central fire station should have a coat of paint on it. It is ten years since it was built and in order to save it from decay it should be painted.

The apparatus and equipment of the Department is the same as last year with the exception of the old ladder truck which we stored and gave the room to the truck of the Highway Agent, so that the Department could have it to use in case of necessity.

The Department has responded to 41 alarms during the year; 8 gong, 33 still alarms.

As Forest Fire Warden we have responded to five alarms for forest fires and I have issued 58 permits to burn brush or rubbish. This is a branch of the service that should be respected more fully, because it will save you a lot of expense and trouble.

The condition of the woodlots that are in and around our town will require the people to be more cautious and when they observe smoke to investigate or call the Fire Wards' attention to it.

Just a word to the fathers and mothers of children who are inclined to use matches freely. I should advise them to use the Oil of Birch before it is too late. There were three occasions during last summer where the results would have been very serious were it not for the quick work of the Department in responding for help.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

TO THE SCHOOL BOARD OF PETERBOROUGH:

Herewith is submitted for your consideration my fifth annual report on the condition and progress of your schools.

TEACHERS

The school year opened in September with seven teachers new to their positions, six due to withdrawals, and one to the addition of an extra teacher to the grades. The new teachers are as follows: High School, English, Clara Bragdon; Commercial, Pauline Butler. Grades: Marion Stone, transferred from Wilson Corner to grade five; grade two, Ellio Roundy; West Intermediate, Viola Johnson; North, Marion Guild; Wilson Corner, Ruth Rideout; Drawing and Manual Training, Mary Koralewsky. All the teachers now in the service, with one exception, are graduates, either of College or Normal School. The teaching force as now constituted, is one of ability, characterized by a spirit of faithfulness and fine enthusiasm, and the results in the progress of the pupils in your schools is commensurate with these qualities. These teachers deserve the heartiest co-operation and support that the town can give them.

THE SPIRIT OF THE SCHOOLS

The spirit of the schools is of great significance in its relation to their efficiency. Of course, we all agree that there is value to the child in the results accomplished in the formal subjects, and knowledge of the three R's must be imparted. The by-product of the schools, however, is fully as important as the formal attainments in the regular subjects. Nay, more, the spirit of the school, that which comes from the relation of teacher to pupil, of pupil to pupil, affects more vitally the after lives of the children than do the required subjects of the curriculum, and in these relations more important lessons are learned than can be found between the covers of any book. Where an atmosphere of confidence and good will characterizes, in the main, the activities and various relations of school life, the spirit of the school is good, and the children are absorbing from this atmosphere a preparation for life that will be most helpful.

Such a spirit, I believe, pervades your schools. Seldom is there occasion to resort to the stern measures of formal discipline. Teachers and pupils work together and play together, each co-operating for the general good. The various activities outside of the regular school work create opportunities for social living which result in better understanding and mutual good will. The criticism has been expressed that these outside activities are too numerous and take too much time from the formal school work. Conditions could exist where such criticism could be pertinent, but we are far from it in our schools, I believe. In our attitude toward these things we ought not to ignore the fact that one of the great purposes of education is to train the children for living, and that you cannot bind life up in an octavo volume and then expect children to absorb it by certain set rules of procedure. Courage, self-sacrifice, self-control, self-reliance, clean speaking, fair play are not instilled into the life of the child in that way. The natural activities of the child can be controlled and directed only by furnishing legitimate avenues for their expression.

And in this connection it is only fitting that we express appreciation of the excellent spirit of co-operation and helpfulness shown by the town's people in all instances where they have been able to lend a hand in these school activities. Especially is this true where the schools have had to raise money for various enterprises. They have been loyally supported in these endeavors.

Mention, also, should be made of the help given to the North school by the Purity Wool Co. in providing hot lunches for the children; of the help which has made possible a victrola for the North and West schools; of the gift of money by the Grange to the ball team; of the milk furnished to many of the Center children by the Red Cross; of the exceedingly generous help extended to several children by the Samaritan society; of the gift of pictures to the lower grades; for the milk furnished to the South school by the Old Town Farm. Doubtless there are other generous gifts that have not come to my attention.

ORGANIZATION

In accordance with the sentiment expressed at the last school meeting and made effective by an appropriation, a new grade teacher was added in September. The fourth and fifth grades were separated and a teacher assigned to each. In order to carry the plan out fully we hoped to be able to secure a room outside the Center building for the first grade. Arrangements were made, accordingly, to have grades two to six, inclusive, occupy the available rooms in the Center building, and to place the first grade in the room in the Historical building formerly occupied by the American Legion. After school opened in September it was discovered that this room would be available only for a short time, and after occupying it for about a month, we were obliged to move the first grade back to the Center building. This necessitated putting the fifth and sixth grades together in one room, but under separate teachers. That arrangement still prevails.

The number entering the first grade in September exceeded our expectations, there being forty-eight enrolled. This is too large a number for one teacher to handle, especially in the case of children just entering school. Accordingly, soon after the beginning of the winter term an assistant was secured from the Keene Normal School. The major part of her time is given to the first grade, but for an hour each day she works with certain children in the second grade. Owing to the splendid co-operation and faithfulness of the teachers this plan is not so disastrous to the progress of the pupils as it otherwise would be.

ACCOMMODATIONS

The situation described above, and equally bad, if not worse conditions existing in the High School, discloses clearly the totally inadequate accommodations under which the Center schools are operating. If results commensurate with the expense involved in maintaining these schools are to be expected, it is time surely that the district attack the problem in man fashion and work out a solution.

It is not a problem that has come upon us suddenly and taken us unawares, but it has existed for a number of years and has steadily grown worse, and the district has been cognizant of it. In my report for the year 1920 I gave the grade enrollment in different rooms in the Center from the year 1912. The number varied from 48, the lowest, to 58, the highest. The following is the enrollment, by years, in the High School since 1910.

1910-11	45
1911-12	52
1912-13	57
1913-14	64
1914-15	66
1915-16	68
1917-18	72
1918-19	74
1919-20	74
1920-21	56
1921-22	65
1922-23	79

With the exception of the years 1920-21 this shows a steady and consistent gain. The slump in the two years mentioned was not confined to Peterborough alone, but was general the country over, due, probably, to the after effects of the war. As early as 1915 mention was made in the superintendent's report of the crowded condition in the High School, and the inadequate facilities. A committee chosen by the district a few years later pronounced the building totally inadequate for what was required of it.

We have had enrolled in the building this year 326 pupils, 206 being on the second floor.

Turning from the crowded condition of the building in general to the condition confronting the High School, and these conditions have prevailed to a more or less degree for years past, we find the situation serious. To do modern High School work successfully certain equipment is absolutely essential, most of which we lack. It is only within recent years that the sciences have played so important a part in the curriculum, and to teach these laboratories are required. For this requirement we have a very small room which would accommodate comfortably, perhaps, five or six pupils at work. It may possibly have been sufficient years ago, but it certainly is totally inadequate for our needs at the present time. In addition to this it is on the first floor, not equipped with any sort of a hood where all sorts of disagreeable, and sometimes harmful fumes, can permeate the building.

We have a Commercial department located on the third floor. The room, itself is ample in size, but no provision can be made for segregating the typewriting department from the rest of the work. With six or eight typewriters, and there should be more, operated by amateurs, going at full blast, it may be imagined what difficulties the teacher is under trying to conduct a recitation in another part of the room.

The Domestic Arts department, also has quarters on the third floor. The rooms are small, and with some classes it is impossible to move about freely. One of the rooms, that which has to be used, principally, as a sewing room, is totally deficient in direct lighting.

The recitation rooms are exceedingly small, and cannot possibly accommodate all the classes that ought to recite in them. The Manual Training department is over one of these rooms, and the noise incident to this work is exceedingly detrimental to efficient work with classes in the room below.

The High School room proper seats 64 pupils by crowding together the desks. We have 78 pupils at the present time, consequently two pupils have to occupy the same desk in many cases.

The Junior High School, which is becoming an integral part of the Senior High, is in just as bad a condition so far as crowding goes.

Other conditions equally as bad in the building could be mentioned, but, I am sure, enough has been said to acquaint the district with the fact, should there happen to be anyone who does not already know it, that the school is in desperate need of more ample facilities.

And what is to be the solution of the problem, for one should be found, and that immediately. I do not believe that any temporary expedient is going to affect the situation in any appreciable degree. One or two rooms, such as a portable building would provide, or the addition of one or two rooms to the present building, will not touch the situation as a whole. This might remedy the condition in the grades somewhat, but it leaves the High School problem untouched. On the other hand relieve the High School situation and you have solved the grade problem.

To do this, in my judgment, will require, either a new building or an addition to the present building of at least eight rooms. That the latter plan is entirely feasible is shown by the plans which you have had prepared. This would give ample and adequate facilities for both the grades and the High School. Of course, I realize fully that this would probably render impossible for years to come the separation of the High School and the grades, but even that situation is far and away more preferable to the one which confronts us now.

Delaying the solution of the problem on the ground that in a few years hence the town will be better situated to erect a building that it will be proud of is, to my mind, simply begging the question. We do not need this building as a monument dedicated to the pride of the community, but we do need suitable school accommodations dedicated to the educational welfare of the children of Peterborough. And as for the financial considerations involved the town is in as favorable a position now to judge of what it can afford as it will be in three or four years from now.

IN RETROSPECT

It surely is not amiss, and frequently it is of decided benefit, to take account of stock, figure our gains and losses, and find out how we stand. During the last five years we have increased the grade teaching force in the village from four teachers to six, thus giving to each teacher a single grade. In addition to many other advantages this has obviated the necessity of dividing grades as was the custom before.

The opportunity has been given to all seventh and eighth grade pupils in the town to attend the Junior High School in the village, thus equalizing, in this respect, the educational advantages offered by this form of organization. In addition to this it has relieved the outside schools of these grades, thus enabling them to concentrate on the work of the first six grades, as no school now has more than this number of grades.

The drawing and manual training teacher now devotes all her time to the Peterborough schools, instead of being hired by three towns, teaching two classes in the High School. By means of the above arrangement a new and important course has been added to the High School curriculum which provides for pupils who do not wish to take French or Latin or a straight commercial course.

For three years a successful evening school has been maintained, and although for the latter part of this year it had to be discontinued several are still going on with their studies.

Last year a summer school of a month's duration was maintained for the benefit of pupils who, for various reasons, failed of promotion. Two teachers were employed, and much good resulted. This feature should be continued.

Hot lunches in the Center school have been placed upon a permanent and paying basis. Milk has been served to the children. This was started three years ago by action of the School Board in diverting a part of the proceeds of the lunches to this purpose. Since then other organizations have taken it up. For the past two years substantial, hot lunches have been provided at the North school.

Physical exercises, as an integral part of the school procedure, have been introduced into the first six grades. The crowded condition of the Center building has prevented this feature of work being carried out in the Junior and Senior High Schools in any formal way.

Space does not permit of mentioning various other items of progress. Enough has been said to indicate the direction we are going.

HIGH SCHOOL

In regard to the work in the High School I quote largely from Headmaster Trafton's report.

"This year we have had a total enrollment of seventy-nine pupils (49 girls and 30 boys). This is fifteen more than that of last year, and makes it necessary to seat two pupils together in about fourteen cases, as there are only 64 desks in the main room of the High School. This crowds the room and makes administration more difficult. Many of our difficulties are due to crowded conditions in the recitation rooms and laboratory from which there seems to be no relief unless an addition is made to the building or a new one built.

The lack of a hood in the chemistry laboratory endangers the health, not only of the members of the class, but of the pupils in the whole building.

"Pupils selecting the college course seem to be on the increase, this group being the largest one in the present freshman class. This follows the country wide tendency to increase our college students.

"Thanks to the aid of some of our townspeople we have been able to have a baseball team and basket ball teams. I hope it will be possible to get the use of the town house free for practice next year. The Grange has very generously given us a sum of about $29 for the base ball team.

"I do not advocate any changes in our program of studies for the coming year."

Regarding some features of the Domestic Arts department Mrs. Lewis reports: "The lunch counter this year has been a great success as the demand for food has more than doubled since last year. This gives the girls the chance to make the full rule of anything rather than a quarter or half the rule. The following is a sample menu for a day which will give some idea of what may be bought for a small sum of money. Parker House rolls, with butter, 3c. each; 2 for 5c; Meat loaf with stuffed potato, 15c.; orange and nut jello with whipped cream, 10c.; cocoa, 5c.; milk, glass, 3c.

"The bookkeeping and cashiering are done entirely by the first year household arts girls, supervised by the instructor.

"Having no hot water connection with the stove is a great handicap, as it means the taking off the stove covers continually in order to have enough hot water on hand.

"The sewing results are not as successful this year, as we are handicapped by having only one working sewing machine. This means that pupils have to wait in line for their turn at the machine. The poor lighting of the room, also, makes the work more difficult to conduct."

The following is taken from the Music Supervisor's report.

"More attention has been given to sight reading with words, which was started last year. This work is begun in the third grade and is continued in all the grades. It is interesting to note the ease with which the children are able to sing a song which they have never seen or heard before.

"A music memory contest is being held in the fifth and sixth grades. This is being conducted on the same plan as was last year's contest in the High School, only on a smaller scale. Fewer records are being studied by these younger children and the final contest will be held in the school room.

"A boys' glee club has been formed in the Junior High School. It is at this time that extra practise is needed by these boys; their voices are changing and they are reading from a new staff so that a little encouragement and aid now is of great benefit to them.

"In the second grade we have started a toy orchestra. This is for the purpose of teaching rhythm and is very popular with the children.

"A beginner's violin class has been started in the grades which will help to furnish material for the orchestra next year.

"The commonly accepted idea of school music is vocal music, but far-sighted people have seen the value of instrumental music and in many school systems the study of orchestral and band instruments has been included. This has furnished the connecting link that has held the interest, particularly of boys during the period of voice change and has opened up a wider field of expression and enjoyment for them.

"The work which the orchestra is doing this year is most satisfactory. It was necessary at the beginning of the year to form a new organization, only four of the members of last year's orchestra being in school. There seems to be much interest shown in the rehearsals and while nearly all of the players are new to their instruments and to ensemble work, yet their work is very creditable considering the small amount of time that can be given. There are in the present organization eight violins, one clarinet, one cornet. A cello player's needed; also more woodwind instruments."

ATTENDANCE

The statistical table of attendance for the year ending June 30th, 1922 is appended. From this it will be observed that the per cent of attendance for the year was 92.7. For the last few years our attendance has shown progress in the right direction, but we are not yet up to the general level of the state as a whole, which was 93.1 per cent for the year 1922. The attendance for the fall term of this year was excellent, but this winter, owing to severe weather conditions and general sickness, it has taken a slump. It will require regular attendance for the remainder of the year to bring us up to where we ought to be. The co-operation of all parents is solicited to this end. Tardiness for the year amounted to 632 cases. This is an average of a little over one per pupil, a very good record.

Eight pupils are reported as having been neither absent or tardy for last year. Their names are appended. These pupils should be commended for their regularity, and it is hoped that other names may be added to this list for another year.

HEALTH

The result of the physical examination of school children last spring follows.

Defective vision	19
Anaemia	3
Skin disease	1
Defective teeth	65
Enlarged tonsils	55
Adenoids	2

This shows a total number of 150 defects of one sort or another, out of a total of 380 examined, or, in other words, 39.4% of the children examined had some defect. This, probably, is not strictly accurate, as in some cases the same child had more than one defect.

Last year we had the question up of employing a school nurse. While the proposition was voted down decisively at the school meeting, the adverse decision was, I believe, due more to dislike of the method of employment, rather than to hostility to the idea of a nurse. There seemed to be some misunderstanding, also, as to just what the duties of such a person would be. It would be impossible, of course, to itemize in detail exactly what the duties of a school nurse would be, but the following would give some idea.

I. School inspection.

Each room visited regularly, say once in two weeks, to inspect for (1) general cleanliness, (2) pediculosis, (3) contagious skin diseases, (4) other communicable diseases, (5) correction of posture, (6) sanitary conditions.

II. Follow up work in the homes.

- a. To investigate absence for (1) illness, (2) need.
- b. To urge correction of defects discovered by examination or weighing of children and aid in provision by means of correction.
- c. To instruct families in (1) hygiene, (2) keeping quarantine.

III. Assisting school physicians in physical examinations.

IV. Caring for minor surgical dressings and treatment.

V. Giving health instruction through talks to pupils, thus supplementing the work of the teacher.

I venture to say that a large part of school absences is due to minor ailments which, if properly attended to, would result in reducing the evil fifty per cent. In attention to such cases alone the work of a school nurse would be of untold benefit. This question of employing a school nurse is to come up again this year. May I bespeak for it the careful consideration it certainly deserves.

In closing may I express my appreciation to all who, in any way by their co-operation and helpfulness have made the work of the schools successful, and to the teachers who, by their faithfulness and enthusiasm have produced such good results.

Respectfully submitted

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL BOARD

After spending considerable time last year in the study of plans for a new school building, it was found impracticable to erect a new building such as planned. The need is, however, more apparent now than one year ago. With an enrollment of five hundred and twenty-six pupils, more room is greatly needed. Instead of twenty-five to thirty, as estimated, we had forty-eight children in our Primary room this year. An attempt was made to find a suitable room, for this grade outside the Centre building, but without success.

Two teachers with separate grades have been teaching in one room. This is not an ideal arrangement and should be remedied soon as possible.

The High School and Junior High rooms are crowded with seventy-nine and sixty-eight respectively. The laboratory and recitation rooms are too small.

To remedy these conditions one of several plans might be adopted.

The erection of a brick building on a suitable site to which other rooms may be added in the future as the town needed. The addition of two wings to the present old wooden building on the hill.

Plans have been prepared to show how this can be done. They provide for slight changes in the main building and eight new rooms, beside basement, four on each end. Manual training would be brought from the third floor to basement. The Commercial and Domestic Science would be on the second floor and these rooms used for physical and chemical laboratories. New toilet rooms are provided and an additional heating plant.

This plan, if adopted, would continue the primary and high school grades in one building, which is contrary to correct educational methods.

A third solution would be some temporary rooms added to the present building or a portable building of two rooms to be used until the town feels better able to build what it really should have.

The matter of expense is a vital question, but even more important is making satisfactory arrangements for the future. This is a question for the people to decide after careful consideration. What the town should have is a separate building of brick distinct from the present school house and with sufficient rooms to house the High School and Junior High Grades.

TEACHERS

Great care is used in the selection of teachers to employ only those well qualified and ready to loyally carry out our ideals. Changes are inevitable each year though conditions are made as pleasant as possible. While we pay good salaries, other and larger towns offer attractions that we cannot meet. It will always be so. This year we have seven new teachers, an extra one being employed so that each of our lower grades could have a separate teacher for the first time. A normal school student has also been obtained to help in the first and second grades for nine weeks. The results are proving very satisfactory.

Last summer we held a summer school with two teachers. The interest shown by both parents and children exceeded our expectations. The attendance was practically 100%. We were particularly fortunate in our teachers and splendid work was done. We hope the extra teacher during the winter terms will make the summer session unnecessary this year.

EVENING SCHOOL

In order that those of our citizens who wish to qualify for citizenship and become familiar with our language might have the opportunity, evening schools were opened both at the Centre building and the West. Teachers were provided and sessions held for two nights a week. The attendance was not as large as last year, only sixteen pupils attending, seven at the Centre and nine at the West. Eighteen sessions were held during nine weeks. This is a work that requires considerable personal visitation among our foreign element in order to create interest and keep up the attendance when there are so many attractions outside. The results, though not apparent to many unfamiliar with the work, are well worth while. It is a duty we owe to those who wish to locate among us.

SCHOOL NURSE

At the annual meeting of the Supervisory Union the interest in employing a school nurse was still strong. Without the co-operation of Peterborough the plan is not possible. It was voted to again include this item in the School Warrants, hoping for favorable action. Medical Inspection received the same treatment when first proposed, but its importance is now very generally recognized. The same would be true regarding the school nurse. A healthy, well-nourished child, with all organs functioning properly, is an essential in the education of every child. The child must be physically capable to do good work in the school room. The work would supplement our medical inspection and soon prove its value. If only forty or fifty of our over five hundred pupils were materially benefitted, it would be worth while. During the recent epidemic of grippe we have had an absent list of over one hundred pupils many times.

REPAIRS AND IMPROVEMENTS

When it was found that a new High School building was not possible, a larger appropriation was asked for repairs and equipment which has been needed. Most of the desks have been in constant use for about thirty years and were in bad shape. One hundred and twenty-five new modern desks have been installed, equipping the Junior High and the second and fourth grades. A steel ceiling has been put in the High School room and lower hall where the old plastering was becoming unsafe. The Domestic Science rooms have been painted; new benches built in the Manual Training room and additional radiation in two of the grade rooms on first floor. The porch steps have been rebuilt and other minor repairs at the Center building. The building at the West had to be given a thorough, overhauling, shingled and patched up outside and the rooms painted inside.

In making repairs conditions are frequently found worse than expected, and we have overrun the amount provided but saved in other ways. The building at the North needs a new ceiling and a sanitary toilet similar to the ones at the West and South. The general physical condition of the buildings is good.

ESTIMATES FOR NEXT YEAR

It is difficult to estimate in February the expenses for a school year beginning in July. Salaries of teachers, cost of fuel, repairs and transportation of pupils, all are subject to changes.

One year ago we did not anticipate the present fuel condition or the severity of the weather; in fact we expected coal and wood would cost less. To be sure of sufficient coal it was found necessary to purchase and have coal shipped direct from the mine and we have an abundant supply to carry us through the year at a very reasonable cost.

Repairs and equipment costs will be much less than last year when we overrun our estimate. In order that everyone may know how last year's funds have been spent, and our estimates for the coming year the two are given side by side. It will be noted that the total required is somewhat less, the principal saving being in the item of repairs.
